

CREDIT SYSTEM & HOW IT WORKS

TDLR gives private institutions the option of how we credit our student's participation while enrolled.

CAA opted into the credit hour system. For you the student, in order to receive your credit for the week, you must complete the following milestones:

Attend all class hours for the week according to your enrollment contract.

Complete all required homework inside the CIMA program before the weekly deadline.

Pass the weekly exam with 80% or higher (4 attempts available) before the weekly deadline.

If these milestones are completed, the credit is granted and recorded by Tuesday the following week.

If these milestones are NOT completed, the credit will not be granted and you must reattempt the week with the next enrolled class.

The next following pages break down the weeks for your program.

(Fill in the dates on the calendar according to the month your program begins)
